CITY AND VICINITY.

Rev. John Vander Meulen will conduct services in Ebenezer church next Sunday evening.

Arthur Ward has taken a position in the office of the cereal department of the Walsh-DeRoo Milling company.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeKruif of Zeeland will entertain the Knickerbocker club of Grand Rapids this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffman of Chicago are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Takken, Corner Central avenue and Ninth street.

The date of Montville Flower's appearance at Winants Chapel has been changed to Thursday evening Nov. 5 instead of Wednesday evening, November 4.

A gentleman giving his name as J. C. Brown, undismayed by the charge in the price of board in the county jail, pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was sent over for 30 days by Justice Devries Tuesday. Marshal Van derHaar made the arrest.

Dr. D. G. Cook has installed an X-Ray machine in his office. It is one of the standard kind and is so constructed that it is always ready for business. Not only is it a machine by means of which any organ of the body can be seen plainly but it is so constructed that the Roentgen rays can be used to treat afflicted parts. G. Wills of Cleveland, Ohio, made the sale.

At a meeting held at the home of John W. Beardslee, Jr., last Monday evening an organization of young people was formed for literary and social purposes. Fortnightly meetings will be held at the homes of the different members. It is expected that a name for the society will be chosen at the next meeting. Following were the officers elected: President, John M. VanderMeulen; vice president, Miss Alvena Breyman; secretary and treasurer, Robert DePree. The society has already enrolled 60 members.

The death of Mrs. H. D. Taylor occurred last Monday evening at her home, 122 East Ninth street, at the age of 54 years. She was apparently in good health until several hours preceding her death, when she was stricken by an attack of apoplexy which proved fatal. Mrs. Taylor came here from Byron Center with her family about a year ago. She was born at Port Huron. Besides her husband, she is survived by two children Mrs. A. R. Zwemer of Grand Rapids, and John Taylor of Byron Center. Funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. J. T. Bergen and the body was taken to Grandville for burial.

Rev. H. VanHoogen preached his farewell sermon at the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church last Sunday afternoon before a congregation that filled the large church to the doors. He took his text from II Corinthians 13-11 reading: "Finally brethren farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you." At the close of the sermon a short farewell address was made by Rev. D. R. Drukker. Rev. VanHoogen preached a farewell sermon in the Ninth street church Sunday evening. Rev. VanHoogen and family left Monday for the new pastorate in Prospect Park, N. J., stopping in Grand Rapids a few days.

John Any, one of Port Sheldon's well known citizens died Sunday afternoon at his home near Port Sheldon at the age of 74 years. Mr. Any was a member of Co. I, 33rd, New Jersey, during the civil war and at the close of the war he joined the police force of Chicago, serving there twelve years. He moved to this county from Chicago and ran a saw mill near Port Sheldon. He is survived by a wife and eight children, Martin and Abel of Port Sheldon; Tena, of Grand Rapids; Charles, of Wetzel; William, of Pentwater; Garret, of Chicago; Mrs. Mary Shippek, of Chicago; and Mrs. Frank Marsac, of Kentucky. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Smith's schoolhouse, Rev. D. R. Drukker officiating, and interment took place at Ventura.

In compliance with the mandate of Sheriff Dykhuis all of the slot machines in the city have been put out of commission.

E. E. Weed & Co. are building an extension two stories high, 30x80, to the machine department of their basket factory at Douglas.

Virgil Calkin, who is working in Holland, spent a couple of days with his mother last week returning to Holland Saturday.—Montague Observer.

The Pere Marquette railroad has announced that plans for one of the largest round houses in the state, to be built at once in Grand Rapids have been drawn and accepted. The structure is to cost $50,000, and will hold 18 locomotives.

By invitation the editor of the Echo attended the 58th birthday anniversary of Mr. Michael Schwartz, at Holland last Saturday evening. The event was one of great joy to him, as his acquaintance with Mr. S. for a number of years has been pleasant.—Hamilton Echo.

W. F. Davidson has been appointed by the board as teacher in the city schools to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. Buchanan. Mr. Davidson has taught several terms in the country schools and one term in the city schools of Holland, Michigan. He comes with first class recommendations and the choice of the board will no doubt prove a good one.—Arapaho (Oklahoma) Bee.

Gen. Gillespie, chief of engineers, in his annual report, gives the following estimates for work on Michigan river and harbor improvements for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905: Holland harbor, $65,000; St. Joseph's harbor and river, $20,750; South Haven harbor, $15,000; Saugatuck harbor and Kalamazoo river, $75,000; Grand Haven harbor, $30,000; Muskegon harbor, $135,000; Pentwater and White Lake harbors, $21,000; Ludington harbor, $15,000; Manistee harbor, $15,000.

In reducing the price for boarding prisoners at the county jail from 40 to 30 cents per day, the board of supervisors struck a blow at the sheriff's office that means some what of a reduction in the income of that office. The purpose of the resolution was evidently meant to strike at the hoboes rather than the sheriff and the board figured that thirty cent fare would not prove an attractive fare for tourists. The present prisoners' board allowance for Ottawa County is not much lower than that of either Kent or Muskegon counties. The rations will probably be reduced to correspond with the price allowed and hoboes will not enjoy a sojourn here.—G. H. Tribune.

The American Horse Breeder tells of McKinley's race in Lexington as follows: "The real horse race developed in the 2:00 trot. McKinley, the big white-faced horse from Michigan sold for $50 against $22 for the field, but he gave his backers somewhat of a scare ere he had made good the prognostications of the wise men. McKinley has all along been a trifle 'crumpy' in one hind leg, and today it seemed to bother him to the extent that he got away badly in the first two heats, breaking and tip-toeing throughout the mile. Masetto nailed the initial heat and Scott Hudson, by a strenuous drive, beat Maxine, and a closely bunched field to the wire in the second. Then McKinley got his machine on the move, and it was his party. He stepped around his field at the quarter, and won the third heat in 2:07 1/2 and after that won comfortably, yet by narrow margins.

The habit the waves of Lake Michigan has of pounding upon the beach at Macatawa Park and gradually wearing it away suggests the question "will the time ever come when Lake Michigan and Black Lake will be one?" Of course the only answer to that question is a decided negative, nevertheless the few who argue, probably through a desire to argue, that in the course of time the waves with their ceaseless hammering will wear a channel through the neck of land separating the two bodies of water, should not be brought to a halt too obstreperously; for it is a fact that year after year the shore line of Lake Michigan is getting nearer to the hillside. A few years ago the wooden sidewalk that had long done service in the neighborhood of the part of the beach where Mishawauke avenue leaves the beach to disappear in the hills, was threatened by the waves and was moved back. Again it was threatened and a cement walk was placed back of it. Now the cement walk, although in some places it hugs the hill, is in danger of being undermined, and it looks as if the only way to save the shore to the promenaders is to build stone abutments.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Vander Veen, 23 East Ninth street, Tuesday—a daughter.

The Pere Marquette railroad, it is said, will celebrate the opening of its new Chicago line with an excursion from Grand Rapids to Chicago.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church will give a Halloween social next Friday evening in the church parlors. Admission 10 cents. All are invited.

Contractor Prange's force of men are nearing the end of their labors and it is expected that the paving of Eighth street will be completed next week. Then for a big celebration. Several of the Eighth street business men have determined that this great step to the city's progress shall not go unnoticed and are arranging for a big day.

The Times, published in Warsaw, Ind. has the following about Montville Flowers, the dramatic impersonator who will appear at Winants chapel, Thursday evening, Nov. 5: "His work is the best of the kind ever given a Winona Chautauque, and that is saying a good deal, for all the more prominent readers of this country and Europe have appeared there."

Weary Willie's looking for soft berths for the winter are not likely to find them in the Hotel De Dykhuis as some more rock has been secured for the county stone pile and tramps and vagrants who apply to the hotel by way of the 10 or 30 day route will be furnished with a stone breaker. The Willies may not like this and may move to more hospitable countries.

The following despatch from Buchanan shows that Bascomb Parker of the Holland Gas company is interested in gas plants in other places besides Holland: "The latest turn of affairs in the electric light controversy is a proposition from Bascomb Parker of the Niles Gas company to pipe gas from Niles to Buchanan, build a reservoir here and supply the town with 75 gas street lamps. And some of our citizens feel favorably inclined to the proposition."

Theodore VanderHeide of this city, second engineer of the steamer W. F. Sauber, which foundered early Monday morning in Lake Superior 30 miles north of Whitefish Point, sent a telegram to his father, M. VanderHeide 151 West Fifteenth street, telling of the foundering of the vessel and announcing his safety. Captain Morse and Olier Frank Robinson were drowned when the steamer foundered but the remaining 19 of the crew, among whom was Mr. VanderHeide, were taken off by the steamer Yale. Lines were thrown to the oiler, who was in the Sauber's yawl boat, but the young man, benumbed by long immersion in the chill water failed to grasp them. As the Sauber settled the water caused the decks to burst. She sank immediately. Capt. Morse's cries for help as the ship went down were heard above the gale. A line was thrown him but he failed to grasp it. The storm struck the Sauber abreast of Manitou Island Sunday afternoon. The ship sprang a leak, and in spite of the heroic fight of the crew to keep the hold dry, it was soon seen that the vessel was doomed. The Sauber was insured for $75,000.

DeKeyser & Co. of Holland through their agent, A. S. Baker, shipped a carload of rye and buck wheat from here last week.

Kissing parties appear to be getting quite numerous in this locality and something will happen soon if this unnecessary appetite is not prohibited. If the young ladies can succeed in finding enough beans for cupid's arrows, several victims will be the result before winter sets in.

Elmer Perkins who formerly resided in this township many years ago has purchased the five acre Moorhouse lot near the pickle plant.

The church of God and the Seventh day Adventists held union services in Agnew Saturday. L. J. Branch of Bangor was present.

Correspondents are very scarce in Olive, but as Cal McKinley has promised to send the News items from here we wish him success. McKinley is another good writer and all people who do not walk straight, will be obliged to give an account of themselves.

SULTS IN EVERY CASE, THOUSANDS OF TESTIMONIALS RECEIVED
NOTE WHAT THEY SAY.

It is impossible to publish in the columns of this paper testimonials which will give even the faintest conception of the popular favor which is bestowed on Malta Pura everywhere. Not only the people who try it speak its praises, but physicians, not a few but in every city welcome it and prescribe it as nature's tonic and a valuable adjunct to the practice of medicine. One lady writes from Los Angeles, California: "I was discouraged. My energy seemed entirely gone. When I awakened in the morning I felt tired, and I had no ambition to work or take any interest in life. My husband heard of Malta Pura, purchased a bottle and this year I am so ambitious I keep everybody on the stir. I certainly feel like a new person."

Another testimonial comes from a young man who had lung trouble in St. John, New Brunswick. "Physicians had given me no encouragement except possible relief by change of climate. My brother who was in Boston, heard of Malta Pura and bought a bottle. I felt better almost from the first dose. I have taken fifteen bottles within the past year, but I have gained 30 pounds in weight and am as healthy as a horse. My lungs seem to be all right." Another comes from a working girl in Providence, Rhode Island. "Overwork broke my nervous system and I was a wreck. I gave up and was ready to die. I began taking Malta Pura and today I am well and strong." A physician in Battle Creek says: "I have prescribed Malta Pura in numerous cases of pulmonary trouble, nervous debility, and when a general tonic is required and the results are extremely satisfactory." We never publish names but keep the original letters on file in our office. We will furnish names of these endorsing Malta Pura to any person writing us. Malta Pura is for sale by all leading druggists at a special price of $1.00 per bottle. Manufactured by Battle Creek Health Beverage Co. Lt., Battle Creek, Mich.

POSTAL REPORT TO BE WITHHELD

Publicity of Findings Would Be of Service to the Attorneys of the Accused Men.

May Be Necessary to Keep from the Public the Most Interesting Sections—President Must Go Over the Document Before Course to Be Pursued Is Decided Upon.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Now that the Bristow report of 110,000 words on the post office investigations has been submitted, the administration is undecided what to do with it. The president has been exceedingly anxious to get the report before the public before the opening of the special session of congress, but the department of justice, which is to have charge of the prosecution of the men indicted, has advised that a considerable part of the report cannot be made public without "giving away" the government cases to the attorneys for the accused men.

May Withhold Sections.
In view of the recommendation of the attorney general, it may be necessary to withhold the most interesting sections. It was said at the white house that it might be ten days before any part of the report would be made public. The course to be pursued will not be President Roosevelt Celebrates Birthday Anniversary and Receives Many Congratulations.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Roosevelt yesterday celebrated the forty-fifth anniversary of his birth. Many beautiful and touching reminders of the event came to him from every part of the country. Hundreds of telegrams and letters of congratulation were received at the white house during the day. When the members of the cabinet assembled they joined in extending cordial congratulations to the president. The cabinet room and the president's private office were filled with exquisite floral offerings. A huge basket of chrysanthemums was sent to the president from the government propagating gardens. It contained about two score of handsome specimens, many of them as large as the crown of a derby hat and of splendid coloring.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The secretary of the interior has forwarded to the secretary of the treasury his estimate of the appropriations necessary to conduct the affairs of the interior department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905. The estimate places the total requirements for the department at $156,000,000, which is about $3,000,000 less than the appropriation for the current year. The proposed Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented. The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is. Now supposing you had a bad back, a lame, weak or aching one. Would you experiment on it? You will read of many so called cures, endorsed by strangers from far away places. It's different when the endorsement comes from home. Easy to prove local testimony. Home endorsement is the proof that backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case: J. H. Streur, farmer three miles south of the city, says: "I was bothered more or less for years with pain through my loins, never sufficiently severe to lay me up, but it was distressing and annoying. If I over-exerted myself or had been driving long, my back became so tired and ached so much that I could not rest nights. I had often heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended that I got a box at J. O. Doeburg's drug store and used them. They relieved me immediately, soon banished all my aches and pains and rendered the kidney secretions healthy and natural."

About Abolishing the Tax Commission

In this day and age if there is the slightest defect in any system for the administration of certain branches of the state or national government, the cry goes up "abolish the system." Abolish it whether or not another system can be substituted, abolish it blindly, ruthlessly, just because it does not reach perfection. Even if it does a small amount of good, abolish it just the same, because it does not do all that is required.

This cry of "abolish" should not at all times be heeded. So far as Michigan is concerned it is now raised against the state tax commission and no argument of strength can be advanced in favor of heeding it. The tax commission may not be all-wise and all-perfect. It is not. It and its workings have been found defective, but it is questionable whether the abolishment of it would bring a better state of tax affairs.

The agitation that had gone on for years and years against the taxation system that prevailed is proof that a change in the system was advisable. Injustice was often done to the state. Injustice by unequal assessments, was often done to the property holders. One of the ways suggested for the banishing of this injustice was the creation of a tax commission, and after volumes of argument and months of agitation the commission was created. It has done a great deal of good since its creation. Smooth tax ledgers have been brought to bay and held up until the honest dues to the state were paid; personal property heretofore not on speaking terms with the tax roll and invited to a place of honor thereon; railroad property that had squeezed through tax time with a ridiculously low valuation has been expanded to something like a reasonable valuation; real estate that used to shrink when tax time came has been kept intact; corporation property that was formerly juggled into insignificance in tax time has been brought from cover and forced to bear a fair share of the taxation burden.

But it has been found that the system is not perfect. That with the good goes hand in hand evils. For instance sometimes the members of the commission take unto themselves authority that belongs to the state or to other branches of the state government, some of them show too much affection for great corporations or for railroad interests. But because a minority of the members so act is no reason why the commission should be eked up as a sacrifice to the "abolish" cry.

Instead of abolishing, improve. Take the knife to the defects in the system and lop them off. Take the axe to the members who have been weighed in the balance and found wanting and let it fall on their political heads at the place where necks begin.

But do not, just to get rid of defects in a system or defective workers of a system, abolish the system. Do not, as the political spellbinders said in the last campaign, "burn the barn to get rid of the rats."

Holland Harbor, It's Bars and An Appropriation

When the fall winds crowd summer winds south and sends waves to hammer away at the Holland harbor something happens. The bottom of the channel rises gradually towards the top and before September gives way to October a bar forms across the entrance of the harbor, another bar forms a few rods therefrom, another forms on the south side of the north pier, another on the north side of the south pier, and another and another wherever the shoreward driven sand can find an excuse for loitering.

The big steamers or deep draught schooners that find it necessary to use the harbor in trying to make port when there is a boisterous roll from the west or northwest, hurdle over these bars as gracefully as a steeple-chaser, until some soggy day, when the waves grow obstreperous as well as boisterous, they are given their bumps and sent to the dry dock for repairs as was the Soc City not long ago.

This shallowing of the channel happens every year with monotonous regularity. Every year it has kept deep draught steamers and schooners away in the fall. Every year Holland has borne it with a grin. But it has been a grin approaching ferocity. But the time has come when patience ceases to be a virtue. It is not right that Holland should bear it longer. Congressman William Alden Smith. In getting the $63,000 appropriation which is now being expended did well. In truth he did better than any congressman that ever represented the fifth district. But this $63,000 is not enough. It will soon be gone—gone before a crib is added to the length of the pier, gone before the preventative act is played on one of the numerous sandbars. More is needed and it is not too early to begin plans to get more. Mr. Smith should be impressed during the closed as well as the open season that there is a harbor here that deserves the best that Uncle Sam shovels out from his strong box.

The Calendar for the November term of the circuit court is small and there are almost no cases of any great importance. It is made up as follows:

Montville Flowers at Winants Chapel, Nov. 4.

Montville Flowers will appear in the second number of the Hope College lecture course Thursday evening, Nov. 5, instead of Nov. 4 the date previously announced. Mr. Flowers will be remembered by the patrons of the lecture course as the talented dramatic impersonator who rendered "Ben Hur" at Winants Chapel two years ago. At that time he made a great hit and his return engagement will be received with great favor. The New York World has the following regarding Mr. Flowers:

"Montville Flowers' interpretation of Dickens' 'A Christmas Carol,' at the Central Metropolitan Temple, on Tuesday night, was a most remarkable enactment of its characters. He clothes the story with a personality and a vitality at once vivid and forceful. Possessed of as good a voice as will be heard on either lyceum or theatrical stage, and splendid versatility of powers in impersonation, his recital is artistic to a degree, and represents the highest development of advanced elocutionary art."

Will Auction Them at Poultry Show.

The sales department will be one of the leading features of the poultry show to be given this year by the Holland Poultry and Pet stock association. All of the stock that is in the market will be placed together and will be scored, but no prizes will be given. Those desiring to purchase can gather from the scoring the merit of the birds or pet stock and can estimate the price. Then on the afternoon and evening of the last day of the show an auctioneer will sell the birds to the highest bidder. The auction will be a good drawing card undoubtedly.

A regular meeting of the association will be held Monday evening, Nov. 2, to arrange the preliminaries to the show and to discuss plans for the sales class auction.

Circuit court will convene next Monday for the November term. Judge Padgham will be there when the calendar will be called and the cases will be arranged for trial. Court will then be adjourned until the following Monday.

Grand Haven Wins 6 to 5

Grand Haven and Holland High school eleven again argued the question of supremacy on the gridiron and this time it was not a tie. The game was played at Grand Haven Saturday afternoon and resulted in a score of 6 to 5 in favor of Grand Haven. Had not the Holland boys been careless and allowed one of the Grand Haven players to get possession of the ball after Bosman made his touchdown in the second half the result would have been a tie as Holland would have had a chance to kick goal and would in all probability be successful.

Grand Haven made its touchdown early. Before five minutes of the first half had elapsed it got possession of the ball and rushed it down the field in a hurry. Then the Holland boys showed that they were endowed with a little of that prime requisite (grit) and kept their goal unspotted the remainder of the game.

Holland scored in the second half, but not before the Grand Havenites gave a grand exhibition of gameness. With the ball in Holland's possession two feet from the goal line they held the Wooden Shoes for two downs. Then it was Holland's turn to show pluck and the boys did it by making a fierce rush and hurling Bosman over the line for a touchdown with but a few inches to spare. After the touchdown Holland advanced the ball for a little while but the close of the game found the ball in Holland's territory and found Holland struggling desperately to keep the Grand Havenites away from their goal line. The entire game was a fine exhibition of gameness as well as a fine exhibition of foot ball. Holland was represented by about thirty rooters.

It is hoped that the teams will meet again. A game between them here on Thanksgiving day would attract a large crowd.

B. Van Raalte, Jr., Loses Part of His Left Arm

B. Van Raalte, Jr., while operating a new corn shredder on the farm of B. J. Albers near Overisel Tuesday forenoon at 10 o'clock, had his arm caught in the machine and before he could remove it his hand was backed and lacerated so badly that it was necessary to amputate his arm about two inches below the elbow joint.

Dr. DeVries was summoned from Overisel and Dr. J. J. Mersen from Holland, and a hack was sent to convey Mr. Van Raalte to the home of his parents. During the long ride, though suffering great pain, Mr. Van Raalte showed remarkable grit, never uttering a word of complaint.

The operation was performed by Dr. Mersen, assisted by Dr. H. Kremers and Dr. DeVries. Mr. Van Raalte stood it well and is now resting comfortably.

Death of John Van Dyke

John Van Dyke, sr., one of Holland's well known and highly respected citizens, died Monday morning at his home, 11 West Tenth street, after a long illness. Though he suffered considerably during the days immediately preceding his death, the end came painlessly and peacefully.

Mr. Van Dyke was born seventy-five years ago in the province of Groningen, the Netherlands, and came to this country with his wife in 1866. He settled first in Chicago and entered in mercantile business there that proved successful.

He retired from business after thirty years of close application to work, and about seventeen years ago moved to this city, where he lived ever since. Although he did not engage actively in business here he was interested in the city and through his aid more than one business enterprise was founded.

Mr. Van Dyke leaves a wife and six children, John Van Dyke, Jr., Fon du Lac, Wis.; W. G. Van Dyke of the hardware firm Van Dyke & Sprietsma; Mrs. Wm. Van Duersen, of Dalton, Ill.; Mrs. C. Blom, Jr., Mrs. Louis Schoon, and Miss Anna Van Dyke of this city.

The funeral services which were private were held Wednesday afternoon from the house, Rev. S. Vander Werf officiating. The pall bearers were John Van Dyke, Jr., W. G. Van Dyke, Louis Schoon and C. Blom, Jr.

The consistory of the Fourteenth street Christian Reformed church has bought of Peter Boot, of the firm of Boot & Kramer, the vacant lot on Fourteenth street, between Central avenue and College avenue. Consideration $700. A parsonage will be built on the lot this winter.

Rev. S. Van der Helde of Beaver Dam has declined the call to the Third Christian Reformed church of Muskegon.

Attorney J. C. Post and Richard H. Post, his son, have returned from a trip to the Pacific slope. They journeyed through eleven states and territories, covering in all about 6000 miles.

The B. J. Reynolds cigar store in C. Blom's Jr.'s building on Eighth street has been closed and the fixtures and part of the stock have been sold to H. Van Tongeren who will move them to his cigar store.

Miss Adams Gets $30,000.

Stuart Baker must pay Miss Adams $30,000 for breach of promise to marry. So the jury in Judge Wolcott's court in Grand Rapids has decided after a long and highly sensational trial.

Not only did the jury find that Baker was guilty of the breach of the marriage contract, but it also answered both of the special questions in the affirmative, holding that Baker had fraudulently entered into the contract with the preconceived purpose of seducing the girl, and that he had ratified it for the same purpose.

Mayor DeRoos's Halloween Proclamation.

To the boys, young and old: A little fun on Halloween night is all right, but do not let it take the form of malicious injury to persons or property. In past years most of the Halloween pranks played in this city were simply fun, but some things have been done that caused loss or expense or injury to some of your neighbors, and that is not fun but down-right meanness and should be punished according to law.

C. J. DeRoos, Mayor.

A large fire in Orange City, Iowa, last Monday destroyed about $10,000 worth of property. Among those who were losers were Smidt & Rozeboom, hardware dealers, John Kulper, furniture dealer, Vauder Aarde & DeVries, confectioners. The loss was partially covered by insurance. Some of the gentlemen mentioned are well known in this city.

"Sunlight," the Walsh-DeRoos Cereal company's wheat flakes food, has been placed on the market. It is put up in attractive packages embellished with the picture of a Holland lassie garbed in the costume of the Netherlands and wearing wooden shoes. Every package contains a free coupon, and if the coupons are saved, the holders are entitled to premiums of silverware, jewelry and imported royal blue china. The food itself stands at the head of all other foods in the market. It is wholesome, easy to digest, palatable, nourishing and healthful, and is always ready to serve. There is no doubt that it will take its place with the best foods manufactured, and that the demand for it will be great.

Great Game To-morrow

The Holland High school foot ball team has a hard proposition to go against tomorrow afternoon, when it will play the South Haven High school team on the Holland grounds.

The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock. Admission 15 cents.

Sporting News

A resident of Hamilton brought to Holland Tuesday the interesting news that the ball that Harry Engle, right knuckled out of the section during the recent Holland Hamilton game has been found.

STONING CHERRIES.

A suggestion which may be acceptable to the inexperienced Housewife.

A silver fork, with strong tines rather closely set, is the best instrument, though probably any other fork would do if the tines are not too sharp. Holding the cherry with the stem toward the palm of your hand, push two times of the fork into the smooth end of the cherry. In this way the stone is caught on each side, which prevents slipping, and is easily pushed out exactly at the stem point. If it should seem a little awkward at first, persevere for one minute, and you will never stone cherries in any other way. This method leaves the fruit so perfect in shape that when it is canned one could never tell that the stones had been removed. I have tried a large darning needle with fork, but have found the fork most satisfactory, says a writer in Housekeeper.

Another suggestion which may be acceptable to the inexperienced housewife is: The best way to look over any sort of plant for salads or greens.

When spinach, lettuce, cress or dandelions are purchased or brought from one's own garden, it is very commonly the procedure of the housewife to plunge them at once into cold water. This causes every dried stem and spear of grass to cling to the green leaves, when, if they are looked over before they are washed, every particle will be quickly removed by a little slap of the leaves against the palm of one's hand, or if any small particles of dried stems must be picked off it can be much more easily done while the leaves and the hands are dry.

General Items

No wonder that time is represented as haggard and worn out. A watch keeps time, the chorist beats time, the clock strikes time, trains run on time if they get time, at a prize fight they call time, soldiers mark time, few can spare time and everyone now and then tries to kill time.—Ex.

An artist draws a picture, an equine draws a dray; the man who marries draws a blank sometimes, we've heard them say; a thirsty man draws water; a blossom draws the bee; if I can only draw my pay that's good enough for me.—Western Publisher.

An extraordinarily ingenious swindle, of Parisian origin, is perpetrated by means of a machine known as the "bliter."

Two men wait about until they see a horse unattended by the side of the street. Then they slide up and worry the animal. One suddenly utters a sharp cry and shows the crowd his arm, apparently badly bitten by the horse.

The marks of the teeth are plain. The owner of the horse comes up. Threats of prosecution are made. Of course he pays damages rather than be arrested. The marks are, as a matter of fact, not made by the animal, but by the biting machine carried by the second man.—Pearson's Weekly.

FALL TIME.

There's a somethin' gits a jigglin'
All along a fallin' vein;
There's a somethin' stirrin' gits a
Of his fancy, like th' stridin'
Of a swing o' martial tootin'
By th' blarin' village band,
Till his soul jes' goes a-scootin'
Out across th' harvest land!

Oh, th' cotton is a fallin'
Like big wuffy flakes o' snow,
An' th' mockin' birds are callin'
Where th' boughs are swayin' low,
An' yeh hear th' han's a-singin'
In amongst th' golden grain,
An' th' fieldlarks are a-wingin'
'Cross th' goldenroddy plain!

Spring is sweeter than th' strummin'
On a lonesome, lone guitar;
But th' fall-time's like th' drummin'
Of a martial band a-fair,
Till yeh almost see 'em rompin'
Down th' hazy village street,
An' a sort o' ragtime rompin'
Keeps a tuggin' at yer feet!

Love, I guess, was born in springtime,
When th' maffin' rock doves call;
But it ripens in th' singtime
Of th' glory-painted fall!
When her hand is like a blossom
Layin' on th' pasture bars,
An' fall blooms are on her bosom,
An' her eyes are shiny stars!

A TANGLE OF ROSES

By LOUISE J. STRONG

"Oh loveliness! See mamma, from Judge Linford." Cora danced into the room with a great bunch of roses. The lady she addressed looked up with something of restraint in her manner, nodded, and returned to her book.

"Have one?" the girl offered.

"No, thanks. I wouldn't rob you," she replied, coldly.

"Why, I couldn't miss one from so many, mamma!" Cora selected a glowing beauty, kissed it, laid it on mamma's lap, and danced away.

Mamma, otherwise Mrs. Cora Carew, tossed the rose out of the window, quoting, contemptuously: "There's no fool like an old fool."

When Judge Linford presently followed his floral offering, Cora detached herself from the group on the veranda, and met him with profuse thanks and expressions of delight, adding, as she indicated the discarded rose below: "That was mamma! Don't think I would do such a thing. Bring it up, please."

The perplexity on his face was swept away by a wave of anger, and he planted a foot on the offending blossom, unheeding Cora's shriek of remonstrance. "All rejected things should be crushed," he declared.

"Rejected suitors, too?" laughed the girl.

"O, they're supposed to be crushed, as a matter of course," he responded, with a quick glance at mamma within. Then with stately courtesy he added:

"Miss Carew, will you grant me a favor, and kindly allow me to show you the prettiest drive in the country? My blooded bays are fleet and eager."

And, blushing with gratified vanity, for Judge Linford was a person of wealth and distinction, Cora graciously complied.

"Father, do you think it safe for you to take out the bays?" young Ralph demanded, somewhat superciliously.

"Why, I would hardly drive them myself."

"And I would not allow you to attempt it, youngster. It requires a man to handle them," his father retorted.

Mrs. Carew leaned out, joining in the laughter at this passage of arms, then said: "I trust you to return her safely, Judge Linford."

To which he responded with a stiff bow, and a look of haughty resentment.

When they had departed Ralph cajoled mamma out for a stroll, that he might give vent to his disgust at this open wooing of blithesome May by hoary December. And she sympathetically consoled; and skillfully appealed to his masculine superiority in the matter of golf, until he was greatly comforted and proposed to perfect her in the game.

Therefore, when Miss Cora was whirled up the driveway in pride and triumphant state, there was no crowd of envious spectators, nor moody young lover awaiting her. Everybody was at the links watching a hotly contested game, in which mamma and Ralph figured conspicuously as devoted partners.

From being an occasional player, Mrs. Carew developed an enthusiasm for golf, and under Ralph's tutelage she speedily became an expert second on one but her teacher, and they elung together like burrs, scoring many a victory.

Also, Mrs. Carew developed what Cora called "a shameless tendency to flirt," but which was only genially expressed sympathy, very soothing to the injured feelings of the moths who singled themselves in the various flames of beauty, and flew to her for comfort. Thus she was seldom without what appeared to be a train of admirers, but was really a company of sighing swains.

"It's perfectly ridiculous; and she with one foot in the grave!" Cora exclaimed one evening to Ralph, who had paused beside her.

"That continual tremor does make one feel that she is balancing on the verge, but I wouldn't call it ridiculous," he returned.

"You know I do not mean old Mrs. Mills!" she snapped.

"I see no one else to whom your remark can apply."

"Look at mamma, then—an old woman of fifty!"

"Minus something," he smiled, "and a magnificent woman, as sincere and kind as she is handsome."

"With massage and physical culture, and all the rest of it to retain her magnificence!"

"That's right! It isn't religion any more to let yourself fizzle all out and go to seed," Ralph teased. "She's fresh as a rose, and she'll outgolf most of you girls any day."

All of which Cora knew was the truth.

"And out-flirt most of us, too," she added, which she knew was not truth.

"Mrs. Carew isn't a patch to father in that respect, and he's years older, and gray as a badger."

"Judge Linford is only in his prime," she asserted. "A man is always younger than a woman. At twenty you're just a boy beside me, if I am two years less." He colored and stroked his downy mustache, but let the stab pass.

"You used to say 'Uncle Linford,' when we made mud pies," he suggested. "And you used to say 'Auntie Carew,' but now it's—follow your eyes and go to her, since you're longing so to," she broke out, wrathfully.

"Thanks," he muttered, sullenly, and, scowling, made way for his father, whom Cora welcomed profusely.

In her room that evening mamma studied herself in the glass. "Well preserved, and handsome enough," she mused, "but what is the fading rose beside the opening bud! He has eyes for her alone."

Across the hall, the "bud" also stood before the mirror and shook her fist at the slender figure. "For shame!" she cried, "to be beaten by your mother! But let him go! I'll be his mother, at any rate!" She laughed, but her laugh was suddenly drowned in tears.

At the hop next evening she was especially bewildered to Judge Linford with her significant favors. Toward the end of the evening, having given Ralph a dance, she beguiled him into the garden to prevent his hunting up her mother, which she suspected was his intention.

Ralph was sullen and distant; he was not going to yield to her blandishments for her amusement. If she preferred old dufters, by all means let her have them; so they wandered silent, stopping at sound of a voice the other side of a clump of shrubbery.

"FOR SHAME!" SHE CRIED. "TO BE BEATEN BY YOUR MOTHER!"

"When you refused me ten years ago I told you I would never give it up, and I have asked you every year since, and I—"

"Father!" muttered Ralph.

"You appear to have consoled yourself at last," a voice replied, incisively.

"Mamma!" Cora gasped.

"I told you in the note accompanying them, that if you accepted my roses, I would take it as encouragement—"

"Roses!" she exclaimed.

Unheeding, he went on: "You gave them to little Cora, and I concluded—"

"But they never came to me—they were hers—how could your note—" mamma stammered.

"Is it possible there was a mistake?" he cried, eagerly. "I do not remember distinctly, but perhaps the note was worded so that she mistook it for—"

"surely you didn't think me in earnest with the child. She is an arrant little flirt, and I let her amuse herself with me since you had refused my gift, with its meaning."

"The gray-headed old wretch!" Cora hissed in Ralph's ear; her cheeks burning at the thought of her calm appropriation of mamma's property.

"Judge Linford is only in his prime!" whispered Ralph, maliciously.

Cora put her hands over her ears. Ralph pulled them down, then repeated of it when Mrs. Carew, in answer to something they had lost, said:

"Yes, the cub bored me dreadfully, with his continual whining about Cora, and his injured feelings."

"Of all the frauds!" Ralph growled. Cora giggled, whispering: "Sincere as she is handsome."

"But it's the truth, Cora, will you—the rest was lost in a kiss."

"Let's turn the tables on them," Cora whispered. Pulling him after her, she darted around the bush, crying:

"Congratulations—mamma and papa! Aren't you grateful to your children for opening your eyes?"—National Magazine.

Remarkable Timepiece.

In one of the chief watchmaking establishments in Zurich there is to be seen a remarkable curiosity in the way of watch or clock making. The timepiece is in the form of a ball, which moves imperceptibly down an inclined surface, without rolling. The length of this inclined surface, which is 16 inches long, is accomplished from top to bottom in 24 hours. Then the "ball" only needs lifting to the top again. This extraordinary timepiece has no spring, and therefore needs no winding. The "hands" are kept in motion by the sliding along an inclined plane.—London Globe.

Slot Machines Furnish Water.

Nickel-in-the-slot machines are in use in Dawson, Alaska, for selling water in the winter. One can put in a nickel and get five gallons of water, but no more. It is so cold there that the water supply in the houses is shut off so that the pipes will not freeze every night.

Most of us would be better off if we had less choice in the control of our actions.

ST. LOUIS BANKS DEMAND NOTICE

Officials Seek to Avert Panic by Enforcing Rules Allowing Time to Pay Deposits.

MANY WORKING PEOPLE RUSH TO WITHDRAW THEIR SAVINGS

Greatest Crash in at Mercantile Trust Company and Police Unable to Handle Crowd—Situation Becomes Better as Day Advances—Money Received from New York.

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—Long before ten o'clock, the hour of opening, lines of depositors stretched away from the closed doors of the Mississippi Valley Trust company, the Lincoln Trust company, the Mercantile Trust company and the Missouri Trust company, Wednesday. Small crowds were assembled before the doors of some of the other savings institutions. It was observed that most of those in line were working people, and many of them women, whose savings were not heavy. Owing to the action taken Tuesday night by the officials of the eight trust companies doing business in St. Louis requiring 30 and 60-day notices of intention to withdraw funds, depositors were not able to get any money. All they could do was to declare their intention of withdrawing their deposits at the end of the time taken advantage of by the companies under their rules. The trust companies also decided not to pay any certificates of deposit before maturity.

Crash at Mercantile Bank.

The greatest crash was before the doors of the Mercantile Trust company, on Eighth and Locust streets. At nine o'clock the doors were opened and the crowd surged in with a force that swept aside the lines of police and bank employees formed to preserve a regular line to the windows of the paying tellers of the time and open accounts.

Crowd Increases.

By ten o'clock the crowd around the trust companies' building had increased to such an extent that the police were totally unable to control it, and the officers stationed at the door were swept away from their stations almost as rapidly as they could regain them.

Women, who as on Tuesday constituted a large percentage of the crowd, were crushed in the jam, and in their struggle their dresses were torn and their hats knocked off.

The policemen, in trying to handle the crowd, pushed many of them into the gutter, and in several instances personal fights were averted only by the interposition of cooler persons.

Feeling Becomes Stronger.

At one o'clock the uneasiness of small depositors in the trust companies seemed to have been removed. At that hour there were only a few depositors withdrawing daily balance accounts or giving notice of withdrawal of savings deposits at the Mercantile and the Mississippi Valley companies. Many persons who withdrew money Tuesday deposited it again Wednesday, and in some instances new savings accounts were opened.

At the other trust companies the withdrawals were but little in excess of the normal. One effect of the withdrawals was observed at the City Hall in the great increase in the payment of taxes. In the afternoon the unusual crowds at the different trust companies' offices had dwindled away and business seemed to have resumed normal way.

Heavy Demand on New York.

New York, Oct. 28.—St. Louis continues to make demands on this center for cash. The sum of $600,000 was sent by telegraphic transfer from the sub-treasury Wednesday, and direct shipments of about the same amount were made by local banks Tuesday night.

No definite news regarding the situation in St. Louis is obtainable in authoritative quarters here, but bankers profess to believe that reports have been exaggerated. Private advices received by stock exchange houses agree that the substantial interests of St. Louis have the situation well in hand.

Chicago and New Orleans also drew moderately on the sub-treasury Wednesday for "crop" money.

A further installment of $660,000 was transferred to St. Louis shortly before the close of business. This makes a total shipment for the day to that point of $2,025,000, and breaks all previous records for a single day's transfers from this city. Transfers to Chicago were later increased to $650,000.

Hope for Settlement.

Rome, Oct. 28.—The latest reports received at the Vatican from Archbishop Guidi, the apostolic delegate in the Philippines, contain much more hopeful news regarding the prospects for a definite settlement of the question of the friars' lands in the Philippine islands, and also in connection with the financial point and on the subject of the friars leaving the archipelago.

Many Cities Represented.

New Orleans, Oct. 28.—Tulane hall was again crowded Wednesday, when the second day's session of the levee convention was called to order by President Scott. Secretary Brant announced that 167 cities and incorporated municipalities of 24 states were represented.

Prominent Wisconsin Attorney Dead.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 28.—Breese J. Stevens, a member of the state board of university regents, died at his home here Wednesday from stomach trouble, after four months' illness. Mr. Stevens was a prominent attorney.

RECEIVER SCORES MAGNATES

Outline of Report to Be Filed with Federal Judge.

Millionaires Severely Arraigned for Their Part in Affairs of Wrecked Shipbuilding Company.

New York, Oct. 28.—A morning paper prints the report of Receiver James Smith, Jr., of the United States Shipbuilding company, which will be filed Thursday with Judge Kirkpatrick, of the United States circuit court.

In the report Mr. Smith severely arraigns J. Pierpont Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, Col. J. J. McCook and others, for their part in the affairs of the wrecked concern.

Receiver Smith states that Charles M. Schwab, J. Pierpont Morgan, Herbert Satterlee, Morgan's son-in-law, and several vendors of controlling owners of the constituent companies, received bonds and stock for which no equivalent was ever paid the United States Shipbuilding company.

His report charges that Schwab and Morgan alone received $20,000,000 preferred and common stock, for which they rendered absolutely no equivalent. He strongly recommends that all such holdings be assessed at a fair estimate on their face or market value.

He also characterizes as reprehensible the secret Morgan-Schwab-Harris-Gates & Co., agreement, by which the $20,000,000 of Morgan and Schwab preferred and common shipbuilding stock was to be marketed in advance of other outside securities.

The report handles the matter with un-gloved hands, frequently using such words as "fraudulent."

Receiver Smith emphasizes the questionable manner in which Morgan dominated Schwab and others, and inspired promotion in forcing the purchase of the Bethlehem plant for $10,000,000 first mortgage bonds, and $20,000,000 preferred and common United States Shipbuilding stock, while the property recently had been bought by Schwab for $7,200,000. More than $20,000,000, the report says, must be regarded as fictitious. One member of a well-known financial house received $5,000,000 in stock for a fee.

The court is urged to act promptly and forcibly, as it deems fit.

REBELS SEIZE PORT.

Further Advances from Minister Powell Regarding Outbreak of Revolution in Santo Domingo.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Further advances have been received by the state department from United States Minister Powell touching the outbreak of the revolution in Santo Domingo, confirming the report of the seizure of the port of Puerto Plata by adherents of the late President Jimenez, who are seeking to overthrow President Wey Gil. He makes no mention of the reported blockade of that port by the government warship Independence and the incidental turning away of a Cuban and an American steamer. The state department has called the attention of the navy department to the facts reported by Minister Powell, and the naval officers are ready to supply any necessary naval force to protect American interests. It is said, however, that if the merchant vessels are simply served with warnings, and are not seized by blockade force, and if there is actually such force as to constitute an effective blockade, there will be no ground for interference on our part. But if a vessel is seized without warning, or there is not sufficient government force to make more than a paper blockade, then the United States government will not recognize it.

RUSSIA TO REMAIN.

Said That Troops Will Be Kept in Manchuria Until Affairs Are Satisfactorily Settled.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—A dispatch from Port Arthur says the Novykirai, a newspaper edited by a member of Viceroy Alexieff's staff, after reiterating the assertion that the Russian troops will remain in Manchuria until far eastern affairs are settled in accordance with Russian views, proceeds to outspokenly lecture the Japanese, necessarily with the approval of the Russian censorship. "Now," says the Novykirai, "is precisely the proper moment for Russia to establish a political equilibrium in the east. The Japanese have failed in Formosa, because they do not understand how to colonize. The efforts of the Japanese to obtain settlements in Korea, having their own jurisdiction, would lead to the subjection of the Koreans and impair the sovereignty of Korea. Japan has not obtained the status of a European state, and cannot be entrusted with the rights of the European pioneers of civilization. On the continent all that can be tolerated is the immigration of Japanese into Korea under control."

Another Record for Lou Dillon.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 28.—In an attempt to beat her own world's wagon record of 2:01 1/4, Lou Dillon, driven by Mr. Billings, made the mile Wednesday afternoon in 2:00. Weather conditions were perfect. The time by quarters was 29 1/4; 59 1/4; 1:29 1/4; 2:00.

In Bad Condition.

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—When Dr. Weyer left the bedside of James L. Blair, the stricken attorney, Wednesday morning, after ten hours' attendance on the patient, it was stated that Mr. Blair's condition was worse than it had been at any time since Sunday.

Helpless Invalid For

Dr. Miles' Nervine Made
My Nerves Strong.

"For many years I suffered from terrible headaches and pains at the base of the brain, and finally got so bad that I was overcome with nervous prostration. I had frequent dizzy spells and was so weak and exhausted that I could take but little food. The best physicians told me I could not live; that I would die of paralysis, as my father and grandfather had. I remained a helpless invalid for three years when I heard of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and began using it. That winter I felt better than I had before in many years, and I have not been troubled with those dreadful headaches since I first used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. My appetite is good and my nerves are strong."—Mrs. N. M. Bucknell, 2929 Oakland Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

"For many years I suffered from nervous prostration, and could not direct my household affairs, nor have any cares. My stomach was very weak, headaches very severe, and I was so nervous that there was not a night in years that I slept over one hour at a time. We spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and medicine. I was taken to Chicago and treated by specialists, but received no benefit at all. Finally I heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine and began its use. I was surprised that it helped me so quickly, and great was my joy to find, after using seven bottles, that I had fully recovered my health."—Mrs. W. A. Thompson, Duluth, Minn.

SPEAKS OF THE NATION'S WEALTH

Director of the Mint Roberts Addresses Bankers' Convention at San Francisco.

Says Precious Metal Is Foundation of Our National Prosperity—Declares Shrinkage of Inflated Securities Not a Public Calamity—World's Stock of Gold Per Capita.

San Francisco, Oct. 24.—All the gold mined in the world during the year 1902 was worth $290,000,000. Of this the United States furnished $80,000,000.

This was a statement made before the closing session of the convention of the American Bankers' association yesterday by Ellis H. Roberts, director of the mint. His speech was on "The effects of the inflow of gold."

In the United States on October 1, 1903, the value of the gold money was $1,277,362,651. The amount held in the national treasury was $654,811,716.

Big Increase in Holdings.

Mr. Roberts produced a long array of statistics to prove the contention that gold is the foundation of our national prosperity and said: "Our stock of gold is double that of Great Britain. The increase in five years here has been $376-021,387. At the present rate our gain before this calendar year ends, in stock of the yellow metal, will exceed that of all European countries.

"This, too, when our population is one-fifth of that of the European countries.
Our stock of gold is $15.80 per capita;
that of France is stated at $24.36; of Germany, $13.54; of Austria-Hungary, $6.01;
of Russia, $5.70; of Switzerland, $3.06;
of Sweden, $3.42; of Norway, $3.73."

Financial System Safe.

The speaker said that the inflow of gold had magnified, if not wholly caused, the frenzy and the excesses in industrial securities. Those who have climbed must come down in no pleasant descent.
But a shrinkage of inflated securities to true value is not a public calamity, although individuals may be crippled and though industry and enterprise may have to rest on their oars. Our financial systems cannot totter.

Credit Is Good.

Prices undoubtedly have been borne upward by the inflation, Mr. Roberts declared, and wages follow prices. In recent years the advance has been swift and strong. The inflow of gold has much to do with this.

As to the world relations, the gold influx, the speaker said that our surpassing wealth has placed our nation's credit on a plane above that of all other countries. We fear no evil from exports of gold, for we can spare more than Europe can pay for in American obligations.

FALL TO THEIR DEATH.

Fatal Accident at Niagara Falls, Ont., in Which Three Men Are Killed and Five Injured.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Three men were reported killed and five injured in an accident at the Canadian Niagara Power company's plant at Niagara Falls, Ont., early Tuesday.

Two of the dead and the injured are Italian laborers. The other dead man was George Hiller, of this city. The men were being lowered into the pit of the power company when the bucket was overturned by striking a ledge, precipitating the entire party to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 150 feet.

Held Without Bail.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 24.—Shortly after six o'clock Friday afternoon the coroner's jury in the inquest over the remains of Thomas Hartley, inmate of the Bartonville asylum for the insane, returned a verdict that he died as the result of injuries received at the hands of Edward Sorrells and Samuel Flynn, attendants, and recommending that the two be held without bail on the charge of murder. Sorrells and Flynn are now confined in the county jail.

Against Unions.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 23.—The general conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of America, in session here, passed resolutions stating that the church was not in favor of labor unions because they were secret societies. The resolutions also state that the church is against the use of the boycott.

Heavy Liabilities.

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 23.—The firm of DOWIE MAKES REVELATION.

Tells His Audience in New York He Does Not Know Who His Father Was.

New York, Oct. 27.—In his morning
address Monday John Alexander Dowie said that he had no right to the name of Dowie, and that he did not know who his father was. The statement was induced by certain letters published by a morning newspaper purporting to show that Dowie had cast off his own father.

Years ago, Dowie said, he had the painful revelation made to him that John Murray Dowie, to whom the letters were written, was not his father.
He said the elder Dowie handed him certain documents on which he would speak to-night. He also declared that he was glad the matter was out, as the letters had been in the hands of certain persons for years.

In his address Dowie again denounced the newspapers and demanded the establishment of a censorship to protect clergymen, politicians, judges and business men from attack. This is the last week of the hosts' restoration work in this city.

DIAZ IN DANGER.

Car in Which He Was Riding Shot at Five Times in the Streets of Guantanamo, Mexico.

Guantanamo, Mexico, Oct. 28.—Great excitement was caused here Tuesday by what looked like an attempt on the life of President Diaz, who was a guest of the state government during the festivities here. The president, his staff and guests were passing by the Oantador garden in a street car when a man of the lower class by the name of Elias Toscano approached, shouting, and fired five shots from a revolver at the car, fortunately doing no harm.

The police took Toscano to prison.
He is a man with a bad criminal record.
The matter will be investigated. One theory is that Toscano was drunk, and another that he deliberately planned to shoot the chief magistrate.

ROBBERS MAKE BIG HAUL.

Blow Open the Safe of a Bank in Sheridan, Ore., and Secure $7,000.

Sheridan, Ore., Oct. 27.—Burglars entered the banking house of Scroggins & Wortman in this place, blew open the safe with giant powder, secured $7,000 in coin and made their escape before the sleeping residents of the town could be aroused. The bank is situated in a brick building in the center of the town. The principal depositors are the farmers of the surrounding country. The robbers took the most opportune hour for their work, as the town was in slumber and enveloped in a dense fog. No watchman was on duty, as there never has been any need of guarding property.

NEW AMBASSADOR NAMED.

Sir Henry Mortimer Durand Selected to Represent Great Britain at Washington.

London, Oct. 27.—The appointment of Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador at Madrid, as British ambassador to the United States, to succeed the late Sir Michael Herbert has been approved by King Edward.

The selection of Sir Henry to succeed Sir Michael Herbert was a surprise to most people here, chiefly because he has never had any official connection with Washington.

The new ambassador will speedily bid farewell to the Spanish court and proceed to the United States without delay.

Killed His Sons.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 26.—Jesse McClure, a farm hand, murdered his two sons, aged five and seven years, yesterday afternoon, leaving their bodies in a fence corner. While a mob was forming to capture and lynch him, McClure drove on a run to this city and gave himself up. He has been secreted by the authorities, who fear attempted violence. McClure lived near Frankton, and had separated from his wife a year ago, she refusing to live with him and returning with her children to her father's home.

Winter Naval Maneuvers.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The programme for the winter naval maneuvers determined upon by the navy department contemplates the consolidation of the North Atlantic squadron off Guantanamo early in December, so that the vessels may be present at the transfer of the coaling station at that point by Cuba to the United States.

Ten Men Killed.

New York, Oct. 26.—Ten lives were lost by the caving of the roof and walls of the subway and tunnel at One Hundred and Ninety-fifth street, and four persons were badly injured. All of the most of them Italians. The accident was the most disastrous that has occurred in the construction of the subway.

ceed to Puerto Plata to prevent further interference with commerce.

SEVERAL STATES TO HOLD ELECTIONS

Complete List of Officials to Be Voted For in Seven of Them on November 3 Next.

MINOR STATE OFFICERS TO BE CHOSEN IN FOUR OTHERS

Interest in the East Centers in Rhode Island, Maryland and Municipal and County Contests in New York City—in the West the Liveliest Contest Is in Ohio.

New York, Oct. 28.—Elections will be held in 11 states Tuesday, November 3.
Full state tickets are to be voted for in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland,
Ohio, Kentucky, Iowa and Mississippi, while in New York, Pennsylvania, Nebraska and Colorado a justice of the upper courts, regents of the state university, or minor state officers are to be chosen.

The prohibitionists have a ticket in all the states except Colorado, the socialists in all except Nebraska and Colorado, the populists in two states—Iowa and Colorado—and the socialist labor party in three—New York, Massachusetts and Ohio. Fusion was effected in only one state—Nebraska.

Interesting Contests.

The most interesting contests in the east are the state elections in Maryland and Rhode Island, and the municipal and county contests in New York city.
In Maryland the offices of governor, comptroller and attorney general will be filled. Edwin Warfield, the democratic candidate, is fighting the issue with Stevenson A. Williams, the republican nominee.

The offices of governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general and treasurer will be selected in Rhode Island. Samuel P. Colt heads the republican ticket, and Lucius Garvin, the present executive, occupies the same position on the democratic ticket.
Massachusetts will choose a full state ticket. All the republican candidates were renominated. Bates besides having been governor this year, was previously lieutenant governor for three years. Gaston, the democratic candidate, was last year's nominee for governor.

Pennsylvania will elect an auditor general, treasurer and two judges of the superior court.
One State Candidate.
Court of appeals judge is the only state office to be voted for in New York.
Judge Dennis O'Brien, democrat, will have the race to himself, having been endorsed by the republicans.

The interest in New York will center in the municipal and county contests in Manhattan and Kings boroughs.
Seth Low, the present mayor, is the fusion candidate, and George B. McClellan the democratic nominee. Ex-Deputy Police Commissioner Devery is an independent candidate, and the prohibitionists and socialists have also made nominations.

In the West.

In the west the liveliest contest is in Ohio, where Myron T. Herrick and Tom L. Johnson, both of Cleveland, are the leaders on the republican and democratic tickets, and Marcus A. Hanna and John H. Clark are struggling for members of the legislature which will elect a United States senator.

In Iowa Albert B. Cummins is making his second race for governor, his opponent being Jeremiah B. Sullivan, who is depending on the democratic vote, the populists having their own state ticket in the field.

The contest in Nebraska is for a justice of the supreme court. The republican candidate is John D. Barnes, the democrats and populists fusing on John D. Sullivan.

In Colorado the democrats made a straight nomination for judge of the supreme court, the populists putting up one of their own party.

In the South.

Gov. Beckham is seeking reelection in Kentucky, the republican candidate being Morris B. Belknap, who is making a very active canvass.

The democrats will have a walkover in Mississippi, neither the republicans nor any other party having put a ticket in the field.

Theater Burned.

Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—The Girard Avenue theater, on Girard avenue near Sixth street, was gutted by fire early Wednesday, entailing a loss of $50,000, of which $25,000 was on the building and the remainder on the contents. The fire started on the stage, and is supposed to have been caused by an electric light wire.

Former Congressman Dead.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 28.—Former Congressman John E. Russell died early Wednesday at his home in Leicester, of heart disease. He was a member of the Forty-second congress, and subsequently was twice the candidate of the democratic party for governor, but was defeated each time.

afterwards will return the visit at Wiesbaden.

AFRAID TO TAKE CHANCES.

Kindly Employer Thought Better of Raising Young Man's Salary and Spirit.

"Yes," said the gray-haired, kindly looking old man, thoughtfully, relates the Brooklyn Eagle, "I thought of promoting James and increasing his salary. He has been here a long time and has been exceedingly faithful. But I'm afraid I can't do it. Poor boy! His family physician says that he has some heart trouble and that any surprise or undue excitement would kill him."

"Is it as bad as that?" asked the cashier.

"Indeed it is," responded the gray-haired old man with a sigh. "I'm sorry for the poor lad, but I don't see what I can do."

"Well, if he's doomed to an early grave," said the cashier, slowly, "the least we can do is to see that he dies happy."

"Yes, that's all there is left," acquiesced the proprietor.

"And from what I know of James," continued the cashier, "he couldn't die a happier death than one caused by promotion and an increase of salary."

"Do you really think so?" asked the kindly old man, interestedly. "I'd like to do a nice thing for James."

"O, I'm sure of it. If it killed him, he'd die with a smile on his lips, perfectly happy and at peace with the world."

The old man roused himself after a moment's thought, slowly shook his head and said:

"No; I'd like to do the proper thing for James, but I haven't much confidence in that doctor. I'm afraid he doesn't know his business. We'll let it go for the present."

House on the Rocks.

Once upon a time there was an ambitious man who desired to found a great and prosperous house, so he worked and worked, and then worked more, and after that continued to work.

While he worked and accumulated wealth to his desire, he saved and invested and reinvested over and over again, while a large family was growing up under his roof.

Finally he and his children found themselves firmly grounded in the Four Hundred, and had no fear of any social winds or floods that might beat against their house.

Moral: A house to stand must be founded on "rocks."—N. Y. Herald.

Not a Student.

"Do you know anything about Milton's 'Paradise Lost?'" inquired the philanthropist, who was thinking of donating a library to the benighted town.

"No, sir," replied the freckled native. "Is there a reward for its return?"—Chicago Daily News.

A TERRIBLE PENALTY.

Prisoners Sentenced to Solitary Confinement in France Not Allowed to Speak, Read or Work.

The Law Times makes the following comment on the sentences passed on the Humberts, the notorious French swindlers: "Some of the comments in the press on the sentence passed on Mme. Humbert and her husband (the other pair of culprits came off more lightly) betray a very imperfect appreciation of its nature. Five years' reclusion, or solitary confinement as it is understood in France, is not only a rigorous but a terrible penalty. Our own code offers no parallel to it and it is probable that a life sentence of penal servitude in this country would be far more easily endured. The solitude of the prisoner in reclusion is all but absolute. The strictest silence is enforced. Presumably the consolations of religion—whatever that may amount to in so dreadful a situation—are not entirely withheld; otherwise the prisoner is forbidden to speak, even to his guardian. Books are denied and (which must be almost the worst infliction of all) the most complete idleness is enforced; no employment of any description may mitigate the appalling vacancy of days, weeks and years. Half an hour's exercise is allowed daily, in a hood which covers everything except the eyes. This horrible life in death may end in the tomb, but it is more likely to end in the padded cell of the maniac."

INVENTOR OF THE SCYTHE.

Was Joseph Jencks, of Lynn, Mass., Who Lived Two and a Half Centuries Ago.

In rummaging among old papers a Lynn gentleman has discovered the complete pattern of the American scythe, which was invented 2½ centuries ago by Joseph Jencks, an ironworker of Saugus, Mass. The invention of the scythe, says the Boston Record, is referred to in Lewis and Newhall's "History of Lynn."

This scythe took the place of the English "bushwhacker" scythe, made of a piece of thin steel about 18 inches long and three inches wide. Jencks more than doubled the length of the scythe, reduced its width to 1½ inches and stiffened it by welding a square bar on the back.

The patent was, by enactment of the Massachusetts general court, as follows:

"May 23, 1665: It is ordered that Joseph Jencks, senr., and his assigns, only, shall have liberte granted to them to make that engine the said Jencks hath proposed to this Court for the more speedy cutting of grass, for seven years, and that no inhabitant or other person within this jurisdiction during that time shall make or use any of that kind of engine without license first obtained from the said Joseph Jencks, senr., or his assigns."

FEW WOMEN STAMMER.

They Are Less Self-Conscious Than Men and Blush Instead of Stuttering.

Have you ever known a woman that stammered? asks the Chicago Tribune. The fact that the proportion of those afflicted with stammering or stuttering is 100 men to one woman is one of the most curious things in the science of pathology. Even the specialists in nervous diseases seem utterly at a loss to account for it. So eminent an authority as Dr. George F. Shrady, the editor of the Medical Record, says that in all his experience he has known of only one woman that stammered. Asked how he accounted for the immunity of the fair sex from this affliction, he replied:

"It is certainly a strange thing. Stammering is an epileptic affection of the organs of speech, and the victim is usually a person of high-strung, excitable temperament. At the last analysis the cause lies in the mind—that is the stammerer stammers because he fears he will stammer and thus make himself ridiculous. Now, women are much more prone than men to nervous disorders, and this makes their immunity from stammering all the more remarkable. For some mysterious reason their nervousness affects their organs of speech only in the rarest instances."

A mere man, in discussing woman's immunity from stammering, was ungallant enough to suggest that any interference with her ability to talk would be a cruel and unusual punishment within the meaning of the constitution of the United States, and, therefore, a punishment never to be inflicted by a beneficent providence.

The theory also has been advanced that women are less self-conscious than men, for it is asserted that self-consciousness is the basis of the confusion of the stammerer. When the attention of a lifelong sufferer from halting articulation was called to Dr. Shrady's statement that the stammerer stammers through fear of stammering replied:

"That is it exactly. One of my earliest recollections is of being laughed at by two of my aunts when I got badly twisted in trying to make a remark. Ever since then the fear of stammering has haunted me to a greater or less degree. Now, it has been my experience that women seldom suffer from self-consciousness to this extent. I do not mean to say that all women are totally devoid of self-consciousness. I have known girls who were victims of the blushing habit, and, as my kindred affliction enabled me to speak to them about it, I discovered that they blushed for the same reason that I stammered—fear of doing so."

AWARDING THE ROSIERE.

Deserving Young French Girl Receives a Reward in June, the Month of Roses.

If there is no virtue in Paris, it is not because the authorities do not encourage it. Those who have gone out of the beaten track of sight-seeing know what a rosiere means, says the Brooklyn Eagle. A rosiere is a deserving young girl who has lived an honest life, often one of sacrifices, and who receives a reward in the month of June, the month of roses. Often these rosieres are orphans who have worked hard to bring up and support a family of small brothers and sisters, or who have supported blind relatives, or those suffering from some other infirmities. These girls must have lived virtuous lives, never have gone out alone with young men, and must never have sought diversion at the expense of those they cared for. The rosiere is generally from 20 to 25 years old, and is chosen from the common walks of life. Of course, there are always many who present themselves, and the mayor of one of the 20 districts of Paris, or of a small town, for rosieres can be found in all parts of France, examine the claims of all the aspirants, and the prize is given to the most deserving. It is not much, for there is only $5,000 to be divided among 40 girls in the 20 districts. It is not much, but we must remember that money is more valuable in France than in America, and that one franc, worth 20 cents, goes as far with the poor in France as a dollar does in America.

In the small towns the ceremony of rewarding a rosiere is touching. She is dressed in white, goes to mass in the morning, and takes the holy sacrament; then, generally accompanied by the village band, she walks to the village courthouse, where the mayor is ready to receive her. After a short address, he hands her the prize with a wreath of roses, which she places on her head. When the rosiere happens to be engaged to a worthy young man, the community makes it an object to marry the couple on the day the rosiere is crowned and rewarded, and thus combines two important ceremonies; then she employs a part of the money in buying her trousseau.

Sugar and Coffee for Soldiers.

The British government has decided to be more liberal with its soldiers and sailors in giving them sugar and coffee. Among the experts in such matters the belief has been gaining ground for years that moderate allowances of sweet stuff and of the Arabian berry are beneficial to strong, healthy men who are called upon to perform heavy tasks and endure hardships, while the entire medical profession appears to be inclined to the theory that weak and feeble men, women and children should, as a rule, refuse such indulgences.

Bounty for White Labor.

In the interest of making Australia "a white man's country," a government bounty is paid for sugar grown by white labor. Of the last year's sugar crop of 100,000 tons seven-tenths was produced by Kanaka black labor.

The committee on claims of the board of supervisors did some tall cutting on the medical bills, and the board adopted the report. The distasteful bills incurred during the recent small pox epidemic were thrown out altogether. Supervisor Clark introduced a resolution reducing the board of prisoners from 40 to 30 cents and it was adopted. This resolution was passed to discourage the hobos from coming Ottawacountyward, some of the supervisors holding that if good fare was furnished the traveling gentry they would head this way. At the latter hour, in company with Mr. Wade, our congressman drove to the homes of Hon. Warren P. Sutton and Hon. W. B. Griffin, making them each a call of about thirty minutes. No political object prompted this sudden visit of our congressman to our village, his desire being solely to see his sick friends mentioned above, nevertheless he did not take his departure until he first left the good news with us that the project of commencing the work on the harbor next spring, and continuing it uninterruptedly until completed, was assured."

So the plan of having both gentlemen come will have to be abandoned and Mr. DeRoo will endeavor to have Mr. Smith come alone the first of next week.
